Garden House

Available as Garden House Standard or Max

The 'Garden House' Log Cabin is the perfect addition to your garden. A versatile design which allows a choice of panels to fit each separate section, you can design the cabin to accommodate your needs.

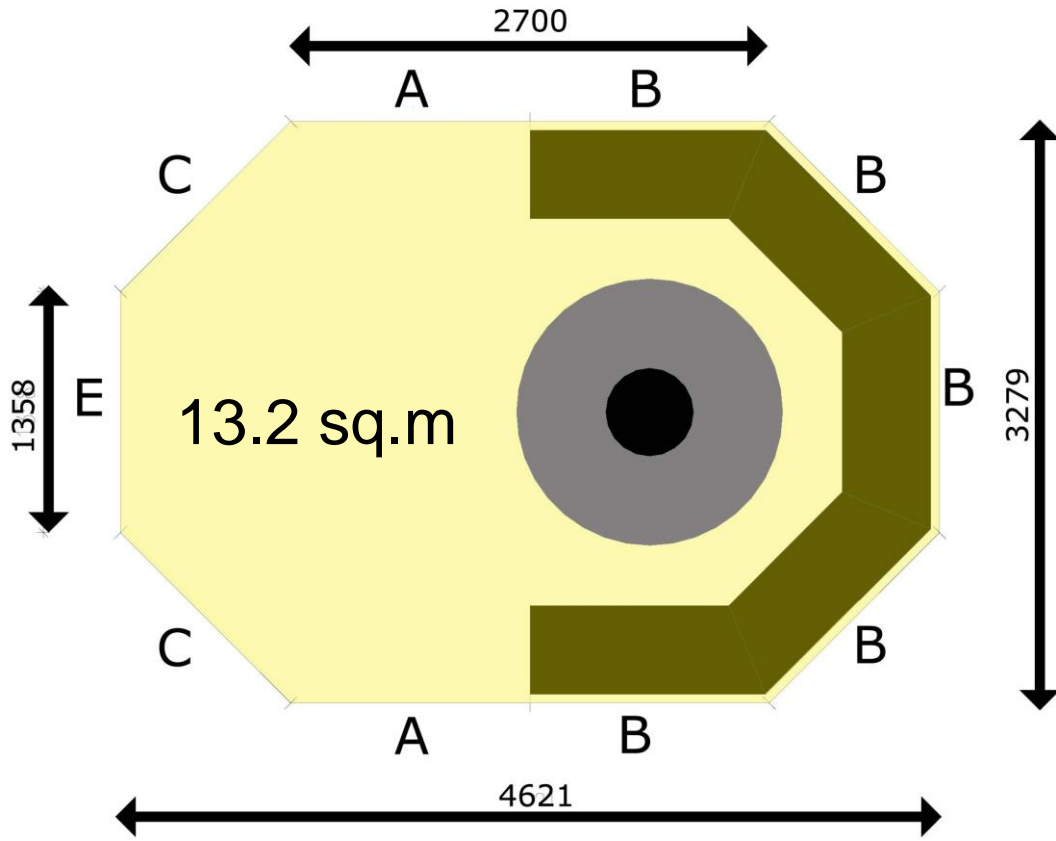

Leisure buildings offer the selection of double door, double window, single window or full wood panel inserts for each of the main sections, allowing an individual cabin design which is specifically tailored to enhance your property or location.

The picture below shows the garden house used as a barbecue cabin, demonstrating the versatility of the cabin space.

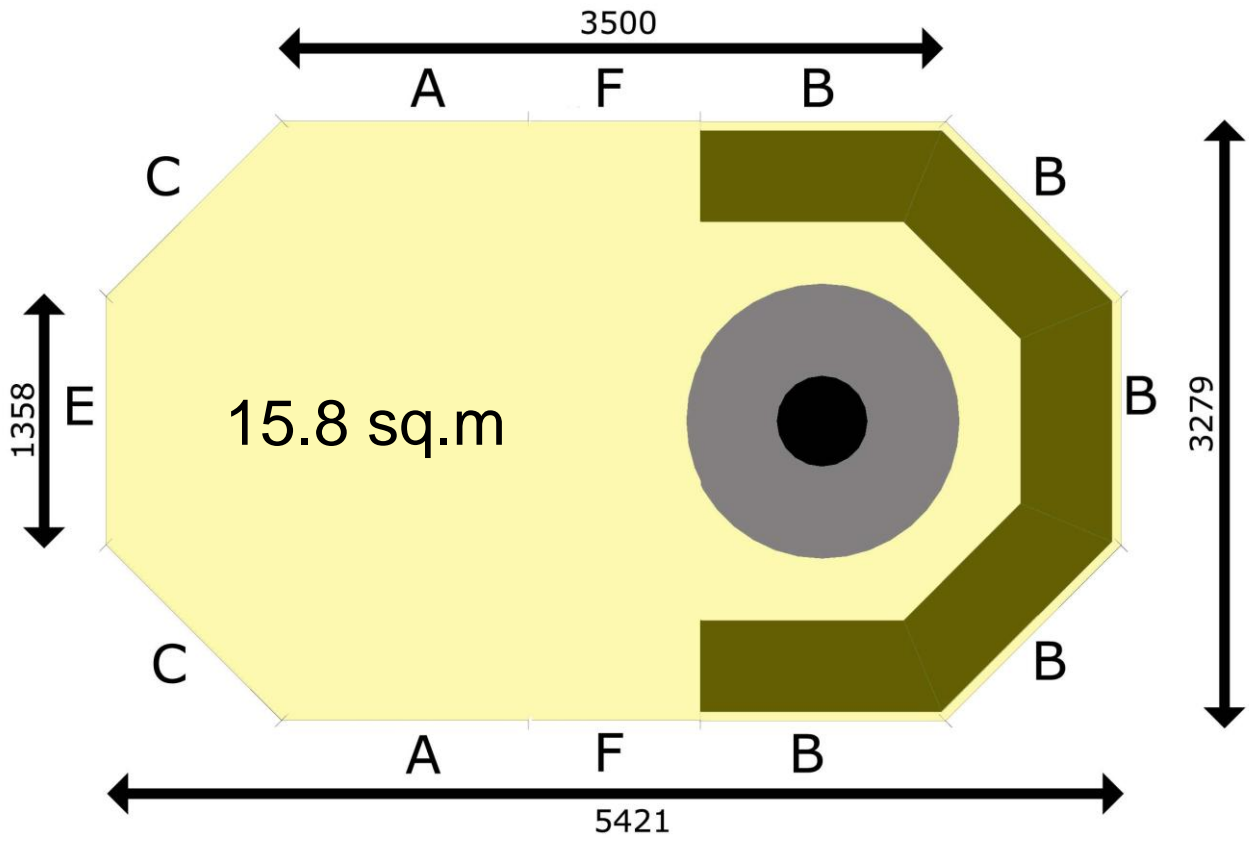

As always, Leisure Buildings supply the instructions for self-builders or alternatively we can arrange to have your cabin professionally assembled on site. For further details call Leisure Buildings.

Please note that when ordering the Garden House or Garden House Max, the panels A, B, C, and E are interchangeable. Panel F comes in one style and forms the Garden House Max half width extension panel. The diagrams on page 2 give a suggested plan for the Garden House, however the panels can be chosen to fit in with your site location and intended use. Please call Leisure Buildings who are able to give advice on planning your design.
